

Nightly News | Aired on July 03, 2012

Horses that heal at-risk teens

A therapeutic horseback riding center for children and adults with physical and cognitive disabilities employs runaway teenagers as ranch hands, helping them conquer their fears and learn the value of hard work. NBC's Chelsea Clinton reports.

<http://video.msnbc.msn.com/nightly-news/48065980/#48065980>